

ROLL PLAY

These funky rugs are the product of a collaboration between Roger Oates and A Rum Fellow. The goal was to create a sense of escapism through the use of colour, resulting in this quietly contemporary range. The flatweaves are versatile and highly durable, ideal for statement stair-runners. £149.50 per linear metre. rogeroates.com

CAGE LIGHTER

This quirky table lamp looks as if it would be right at home on a submarine. It's not designed for deep-sea expeditions, though, but rather for your at-home work station. It's the new Iglù light from Italy's Masiero, made from painted metal with a mesh diffuser to cover the bulb. If you like this, there's a stunning chandelier version and various pendant options too. £370. masierogroup.com

SNOOZE YOU LOSE

Coming home is all the better when you have a dreamy bed to fall into. As well as a voluptuous mattress and silky-soft bedding, a dramatic headboard should be considered essential. The Chloe from Andrew Martin provides a focal point in this bedroom, plus ample space to lean back with a good book. With 52 fabrics to choose from, you can't go wrong. Headboard from £1,250. andrewmartin.co.uk
